

T.E.A. – Dawid Podsiadło

Felt the sunlight in my veins
Heard the birds all sing in grace
Opened up the eyes to see
That I fell down to my knees
Looked for shoulder to lean on
Was surprised when it was gone
Then a scream came out of lungs
I was ready to announce
That this is a new day, new beginning
New horizons to be chased, new illusions
This is a new day, new beginning
New horizons to be chased, new illusions
When my strength has been regained
Started running, under a different name
Didn't stop when someone asked
Bout directions of today
There's too much of unexplained
To be stuck in a favorite place
Moment later they were with me
All the people that felt free
It's a new day, new beginning
New horizons to be chased, new illusions
It's a new day, new beginning
New horizons to be chased, new illusions
It's a new day
A new day
